Delivering talent

DPS Group is a global consulting, engineering and construction management company, serving high-tech industries around the world.

Our Values

The DPS culture is based on actions, not promises. We don't rest on past successes.

Dynamic

We have a passion and an underlying entrepreneurial spirit that drives us to seek out the best answers to the challenges we face.

Adaptable

We are innately a flexible and responsive organization. We use this strength to seize new possibilities and help clients fulfil their potential.

Honest

We look at the relationship, not just the bottom line.

Human

We are a 'Work With' organization of people who are keen to share their expertise through a positive, 'always can-do' attitude.

Contract Services, part of global engineering consulting company DPS Group, has provided a bespoke service delivering sector specific talent to high-tech industries across Europe for the past 20 years. We have one goal: to deliver more than you expect - first time, every time.
